The Prince of Peace

We all want peace. To feel safe we try to grasp it by saving, eating healthily, getting insurance policies... But when our peace is dependent on circumstances, it is fragile; and we are understandably anxious.

When Jesus arrived on earth, the angels sang: "Glory to God in the highest heaven, and on earth peace to those on whom his favour rests" (Luke 2:14)

This wasn't a temporary moment of peace; this was a promise that true, lasting peace had come.

Jesus healed the sick, opened blind eyes and raised the dead. He even defeated death in His resurrection. He demonstrated His total authority over all the things that rob us of peace. He truly lived up to His promised identity: "Prince of Peace" (Isaiah 9:6)

As the Prince of Peace, Jesus doesn't just give peace; He is peace for those who trust in Him rather than in our ever-changing circumstances. The peace He gives comes from the promise that He is with us. Always!

Even if all hell breaks loose on earth, Jesus is still on the throne, able to strengthen us, provide for us, hold us through bad situations and use our worst times to bring about great good. Where else can we get such assurance?

The peace of earth is fragile. But peace on earth from Jesus is strong enough to guard our hearts and minds in Him.

"In me you may have peace", even when our world is full of trouble. (John 16:33)

*"The Kirk Session and Committee wish all members of the Congregation
a very Happy Christmas and Blessed New Year"*
